

General Ledger Exchange (GLX)

Do you want to be able to pass accounting data from your property management system to your corporate accounting system?

BlueBox has been designed from the outset to achieve the highest levels of data interoperability between systems without bespoke programming. The integrated GLX Module provides a managed file transfer platform that offers secure, fully automated processing of accounting data between systems with full auditability.

It doesn't matter what your corporate accounting system is, the GLX is enterprise ready, offering a distributed environment solution that can provide data exchange with single or multiple third party applications via XML.

Once the chart of accounts and transaction mapping is complete, implementing the BlueBox GLX to pass data to your corporate accounting system will;

- Save time by automatically processing the required data
- Eliminate time consuming manual data entry, increasing accuracy and hence reporting
- Negate the possibility of passing data twice
- Provide a full audit trail
